CONDUCT REVIVAL

THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF BUCHANAN STREET M. E. CHURCH.

SECURED A PREACHER

Rev. S. M. Robinson, of Plattsburg District Will Remain a Week to Conduct Services.

Rev. S. M. Robinson, presiding elder of the Plattsburg district, will preach this week at the Buchanan street Methodist church. A revival is being conducted there by the young people of the church. The young people did not expect to have a minister do the preaching when the revival was first planned but the interest in the meeting has been so great that they thought best to procure some one to preach for them every evening.

Rev. Robinson preached a strong sermon at the Sunday evening service. He was the gifts of an evangelist. Before coming here he conducted a great meeting in North Kansas City which resulted in fifty five additions to the church. He came to Maryville yesterday to perform a marriage ceremony and at the request of Rev. J. D. Randolph, has promised to remain a week. He preached yesterday evening on the parable of the Wheat and Tares. He said in part:

"This is one of the parables the meaning of which we cannot fail to understand for Jesus himself explained it. We are told that the field could not produce a harvest of itself. All good comes from God. Human nature cannot originate good. It can, however, become a conductor of good. It shines with reflected light. Human nature cannot originate evil.

"Evil comes from the 'Wicked One.' It is received into human nature and produces a harvest of evil. I believe in total depravity, but not in total rottenness. Every one is capable of both good and evil. 'Behold I stand at the door and knock,' may be said of the 'Wicked One' as well as of Christ. 'The door must be unlocked from within. Neither Christ nor Satan has a key that will open the door of the heart. We are inside. Both Christ and Satan are outside. They cannot enter with out our consent.

"This parable brings up the question of the origin of evil. That has been a hard problem for some people. Jesus makes it plain that evil originates from the 'Evil One.' He it was who sowed the tares in the field.

"The parable also brings up the question of what to do with those whose lives are given over to evil. The servants asked, 'Wilt thou that we gather up the tares?' The answer was, 'Let them go, lest in rooting up the tares you pull up the wheat also.' We some times think God ought to destroy the sinner at once and get him out of the way. We do not stop to consider that the wheat would suffer with the tares."

At the close of the service an invitation was given to unite with the church. One was received by letter. While the meeting is called a Young Peoples Revival a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend the services.

Rev. Robinson will speak this evening on "The Border Line." The song service will begin promptly at 7:30.

LOST TO RAVENWOOD

Basket Ball Team of Christian Church of this City Defeated Saturday Night.

The basket ball team of the Christian church, of Maryville played a game with the Ravenwood team at Ravenwood Saturday night.

The Maryville team was handicapped in several ways as the gymnasium was much smaller than the one in which the church team had been playing in. The game was very rough at times and the score was 14 to 13. The line-up was: Maryville, Miller, McReynolds, Powell, Schaub and Polson. Ravenwood, Bradley, Trane, Slagle, Graf, Thompson, Rhodes and Duncan.

Prof. Clyde Busby of the Maryville high school refereed the game.

Came to See Nephew.

Dr. J. K. Phipps, of Grant City, was in Maryville to see his nephew, Paris Phipps, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Phipps. The little boy had been quite sick of pneumonia, but is some better.

Miss Mame Hagerty, of Alliance, Nebr., and Miss Elizabeth Mulverhill, of Omaha, who are guests of Miss Hagerty's aunt, Mrs. C. P. McCall, went to Conception Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Heekin.

DEATH OF HELEN FORD BRADLEY

Young Maryville Woman Passed Away Monday Morning at 1:30 O'Clock After Week's Illness

Mrs. Glade Bradley passed away Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ford, 128 South Main street, following a week's illness of scarlet fever. Mrs. Bradley's death is a severe shock to her husband, family and friends, as she was in perfect health up to the time the sickness came on her.

The news of Mrs. Bradley's death has been telegraphed to her father, Jim Andy Ford, who was called to St. Louis Sunday night on important business, and to her brother, Harold Ford of Chicago, and their arrival is expected Tuesday morning. Services will be held in Miriam cemetery in the presence of the family, but the time has not been decided upon. Rev. S. D. Harkness of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of the service.

Helen Ford Bradley was the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Ford and all her life had been lived in Maryville. Her age was 18 years, 11 months and 16 days. She attended the Maryville schools, studied music and art, was quite accomplished in household affairs and was a social favorite. She had been a member of the First Presbyterian church since childhood and had recently become a member of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was married the 31st day of January, 1913, to Glade Bradley of Bedford Iowa, who with their four-months-old son survives. Mrs. Bradley also leaves a brother and sister, Harold Ford, head of the wall paper department at Mandel Brothers, Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Jr., of this city.

TO OBSERVE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Rev. Fr. MacLeod Will Give a Lecture at the Empire Theatre in the Evening.

On tomorrow falls the anniversary of the birth of Ireland's patron saint, and it will be observed in the usual way. Rev. Fr. MacLeod, who appeared at a chautauqua assembly here a few years ago, will give a lecture at the Empire theatre in the evening.

There has been much said and written relative to the history of St. Patrick, but according to the majority of writers on the subject, St. Patrick was born at Banavem Tabernacle, in Scotland, probably identical with the modern Dumbarton, on the Severn, near its confluence with the Clyde, a few miles northwest of Glasgow. The Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, D. D., professor in the Catholic University of America in Washington, says in his book entitled "St. Patrick in History," that St. Patrick was very probably born in the vale of Clwyd (Clyde), near the Roman town of Deva (Chester). St. Patrick himself states in his confession that he was born in the district of "Banavem Tabernacle." Mulchrur says that his place was in Britain, "not far from our sea," i. e., from the coast of Ireland, and adds that he had always and for certain "found it to be the place called 'Ventre,' the birthplace likewise of Conchessa, the mother of St. Patrick." When 16 years of age, another authority relates, he was captured by pirates and carried to Ireland, where he lived as a slave for six years employed in tending cattle. This sad condition drove him to find consolation in religion and, in obedience to a divine intimation, he fled from his master and journeyed south two hundred miles. He found a ship about to sail for France, was taken on board as a servant and in three days landed at the mouth of the Loire. He finally made his way to Tours, where the famous Martin was bishop. He lived with Martin four years. This same account states that his mother was a sister of Bishop Martin, so that it is probable the tradition about his being of French birth originated from this act.

Watch the Children!

A little child on East Third street missed only by six inches being run over by an auto bus Saturday forenoon, about 11:30 as the bus was on its way to the noon Burlington train. The child fell in the parkway where it was playing, when the bus was a short distance away, and as he made no effort to get up Grant Trusty thought he was going to lie there and watch the bus pass. But instead, the little fellow jumped up suddenly and ran onto the pavement almost in front of the bus. Had the bus been a few inches nearer the child would have been crushed. Watch the children as they are beginning to play out these days and teach them to stay off the streets.

HELD BY FARMERS MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO., SATURDAY.

ELECT OFFICERS LATER

Until a Constitution is Adopted—The One Presented Did Not Provide Incorporation.

The members of the Farmers Mutual Telephone Company, who held its annual meeting in the circuit court room Saturday afternoon and evening, deferred the election of officers and the adoption of by-laws until a constitution is adopted.

A form of the constitution proposed by the president of the company and the members of the committee appointed by him, was presented to the convention. The constitution as presented did not provide for the incorporation of the company. Some of the delegates personally favored the adoption of the constitution but felt disinclined to vote for it before having a chance to consult their constituents. Others disapproved of any plan that did not contemplate the incorporation of the company. Still others objected to the rates proposed by the constitution as submitted. A motion to adopt the constitution in the form submitted to the convention was lost by a vote of 32 to 5.

It was then voted by the convention that the constitution as proposed be printed and a copy sent to each member of the union. The meeting was adjourned to March 28, at which time the question of the adoption would again come up, after the representatives had a chance to discuss the matter with the subscribers on their respective lines.

It was also ordered that each line hold a meeting before March 28 and elect a representative who would have power to act for his line at this meeting.

There was some discussion in regard to the new toll lines and the extension of other lines but nothing was done. It was also voted unanimously that the election of officers and the adoption of by-laws be deferred until after a constitution was adopted.

All subscribers have been invited to read over carefully the form of the proposed constitution sent to them and to have their representatives suggest changes or amendments as they desire at the next meeting.

MRS. W. W. LAKE
Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake, of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The grippe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

IF NEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach, headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; beside, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—Advertisement.

Cecil Rhodes' Eggs.

Cecil Rhodes used to take a coop of hens on board to provide fresh eggs on his numerous voyages between England and South Africa. But those were three weeks' journeys, and not a mere five day crossing of the Atlantic. Hence another prominent South African personage was asked why he did not follow Rhodes' example and provide himself with the luxury of new laid eggs at sea. "Oh, I don't bother to take a coop of fowls on board," he replied, "but I tip the boatman who looks after Rhodes' hens, and I get Rhodes' eggs."

THE LURE OF MAGIC.

Why One Man Just Had to Rub Elbows With a Conjuror.

Ambition takes men very differently. One would enter parliament and one would have a play accepted at the court; one would reach the north pole, and one would live at Chiselhurst, while a fifth would be happy if only he had a motorcar. Speaking for myself, my ambition has always been to have a conjurer perform under my own roof, and it has just happened. I obtained him from the stores.

I have never been so near magic before. Like all great men when one comes closely in touch with them, he was quite human, quite like ourselves; so much so indeed that in addition to his fee he wanted his cab fare both ways. It is very human to want things both ways.

I have been wondering how long it would take me to learn to be a conjurer and if it is not too late to begin.

I don't want to be a finished conjurer. I merely want to do three tricks with reasonable dexterity. Of course if one can do three tricks one can do thirty, but it is three, and three only. I have in mind—first, I want to borrow a watch and put it in a pestle and mortar and grind it to powder and then fire a pistol at a loaf of bread and find the watch whole again in the midst of the crumbs; second, I want to borrow a tall hat and throw in flour and break eggs into it and stir it all up and hold it over a spirit lamp for a second and then produce a beautiful warm cake; third, I want to find hens' eggs in old men's beards and little girls' hair.

Tricks with cards and money and so forth I don't mind about, because I would always rather see them done than do them, there is such fascination in the clean, swift movement of the conjurer with cards, his perfect mastery of his fingers, the supple beauty of his hands. And tricks with machinery I would gladly forego.

My conjurer's most popular trick was, of course, that which calls upon the co-operation of a rabbit. I wrote to him in advance to insist on this. No man who at a children's party produces a live rabbit, particularly when it is very small and kicking and also black and white, is making a mistake. No matter what has gone before, this apparition will seal his popularity. The end crowns the work (as I could say in Latin if I liked).

It was not only to the children that this trick was welcome, but to an elderly literary friend of mine with whom I have collaborated more than once and into whose life I hoped to get a little brightness by inducing him to bring the tall hat which the wizard should borrow. The thought filled him with excitement. It was bringing radiance indeed into his life to know that this old hat, which had done nothing more romantic than keep his head warm all these years, was to be used for magical purposes and have a real rabbit extracted from it.—From "Character and Comedy," by E. V. Lucas.

"Our Wretched Bone."

How can we—we who have gained for ourselves health and comfort and knowledge—how can we stand patiently by and see our brother diseased and miserable and ignorant? How can we bear our luxuries as long as a child is growing up in savagery whom we might have saved, or a woman is drooping from sorrow and overwork whom we might have cherished and helped? We are not our own—we are parts of the whole. Generations of workers have toiled for us in the past, and we are in return to carry our wretched bone off to our miserable corner, sharing and giving nothing? Woe upon us if we do.—Mrs. Humphry Ward in "The History of David Grieve."

Where They Don't Agree.

TOLLS DEBATE ON THIS WEEK

House Will Take Up Open Discussion of Question Soon.

MAY VOTE BY SATURDAY NIGHT

Effort Will Be Made in the Senate by Administration Leaders to Pave Way for Early Action—Lobbying Investigating Committee.

Washington, March 16.—Open debate on repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act will begin late this week in the house, and a vote in that body on the Sims bill to carry out the recommendations of President Wilson is expected by Saturday night. In the senate efforts will be made by administration leaders to pave the way for early action on the issue by bringing it squarely before the committee on interoceanic canals for consideration and report by the time the house has disposed of the subject.

Opposing forces in both houses are arrayed for the fight, the prospect being that the champions of tolls exemption for American coastwise ships will lose when the roll calls have been taken in both houses. Representatives Adamson and Sims, in charge of the repeal forces in the house, are only doubtful as to the size of the majority their cause will have.

Another question included in the foreign relations of the government which it is planned to undertake this week for consideration is the pending treaty with Nicaragua negotiated in the Taft administration, which the present administration wishes to have amended and ratified as soon as possible. The foreign relations committee of the senate expects Secretary Bryan to appear Wednesday in explanation of the administration's desires relating to the treaty, which is designed primarily for acquisition by the United States of the Nicaraguan canal rights and rights to naval station sites in the Bay of Fonseca in exchange for a payment of $3,000,000 in gold.

In the senate during the week the lobby investigating committee plans to resume its examination of Clarence W. DeKnight with regard to charges of lobbying in the interest of increased pay bill for army and navy officers and other legislative matters. Appropriation bills also will be taken up in both branches, the house planning to take up the naval appropriation bill, over which will occur a spirited contest between the so called "big navy" and "little navy" adherents.

AMBASSADOR PAGE SCORED

Chamberlain Says He Should Stop Talking or Be Recalled at Once.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—"Some means ought to be found by the powers that be to seal the lips of the ambassador to Great Britain, or else, in justice to the American people, he ought to be recalled and that as promptly as possible," declared Senator Chamberlain of Oregon in a formal statement, after reading cabled accounts of Ambassador Page's address before the Associated Chambers of Commerce in London.

Senator Chamberlain introduced the resolution passed by the senate, as a result of which Secretary Bryan cabled Mr. Page for a full report of his speech, in which he was reported as having said that the American people were pleased that Great Britain should profit most by the Panama canal and that the Monroe doctrine meant merely that the United States "would prefer that no European governments would gain more land in the new world."

JOBLESS ARMY RAISES $14

"General" Kelley Is Likened to Napoleon by Woman Speaker.

Sacramento, Cal., March 16.—When seemingly on the point of disbandment 300 members of the unemployed army on the Yolo county side of the Sacramento river were cheered up by a collection taken for them at a meeting held in their midst by Sacramento clergymen and by the exhortations of Mrs. Cora Bates of Sacramento, who spoke from a soap box.

Mrs. Bates likened the men to martyrs and compared "General" Kelley, one of their leaders, to Napoleon. The encouraged men began again their talk of a march to Washington.

The collection, amounting to $14, was ordered used to buy food.

"Votes for Women" Painted on Church Birmingham, England, March 16.—Worshippers in the cathedral found the walls and floors of the edifice covered with suffragette proclamations painted in white letters a foot high, reading "Votes for Women." "The clergy must rise in our behalf and stop the torturing of women in prison." Every foot of space, except the altar, had a sign painted on it, including the pews.

Three More Bodies Recovered.

St. Louis, March 16.—Three bodies were removed from the ruins of the Missouri Athletic club building, bringing the total of dead recovered to twenty-nine. Thirty are believed to have perished in the fire a week ago. One of the bodies removed was identified as that of Allen H. Rock of this city.

FATHER DORNEY, KING OF STOCK YARDS, DEAD

Parish in Chicago Most Irish of Any Outside of Erin.

Chicago, March 16.—Rev. Maurice J. Dorney, a Chicago Catholic priest, whose name is familiar on both sides of the Atlantic, died at Mercy hospital, where his sister is one of the nuns in charge. Death was due to paralysis, following heart trouble, which attacked him a few weeks ago.

Father Dorney, "the king of the stock yards," was one of the strongest and most picturesque characters in the west. Counselor, protector, friend to thousands, he had the power for thirty-five years of the ruler of a principality, in one of the greatest industrial centers in the world—the packing house district of Chicago. His prestige extended to the White House in Washington and on a memorable occasion he earned the gratitude of Irishmen everywhere as a trusted envoy from Irish leaders on this side of the Atlantic to Charles Stewart Parnell in London.

What is said to be the most Irish parish outside of Ireland was Father Dorney's office charge, St. Gabriel's, at Forty-fifth street, the nearest Catholic parish to the main entrance of the stock yards. To people well acquainted with that part of Chicago, no more evidence is needed to illustrate the force of his personality than the fact that by his efforts a mile square of territory surrounding his church has for twenty years been absolutely free from the presence of a saloon.

RIVADAVIA ENDS TRIALS

Greatest Broadside Ever Delivered From Battleship.

Boston, March 16.—Firing what was said to be the greatest salvo of big guns ever discharged from a battleship, the Argentine dreadnought Rivadavia completed the trials demanded by the construction contract. Every requirement was fulfilled, its builders announced.

The salvo was delivered in one broadside. Twelve 12-inch guns and six 10-inch guns were trained from the port side of the big sea fighter as it lay off Cape Cod. With the pressure of a single button the eighteen guns were discharged, sending as many heavy projectiles out over the waters of the Atlantic.

The dreadnought was shaken somewhat, glass was broken notwithstanding special copped shutters and minor fittings were displaced, but the structure of the battleship, it was said, stood firmly under the strain. The test was repeated without causing any unexpected damage.

During the discharges the men aboard had to carry rubber between their teeth and cotton in their ears to ease the jar of the mighty detonations.

WARS DELAY CONFERENCE

Pan-American Meeting Postponed Because of Disturbances.

Washington, March 16.—Conditions in Mexico and disturbances in a number of South American countries are understood to be the principal reasons for the postponement of the fifth Pan-American conference, which was to have been held in Santiago, Chile, about the middle of next September, had been postponed until Nov. 25.

Ambassadors and ministers here will notify their governments of this purpose, Secretary Bryan having assented to the postponement.

Three Killed on Bridge.

Chicago, March 16.—Three unidentified men were knocked off a bridge into the Desplaines river and killed at River Grove by a Milwaukee train. The men were in the middle of the bridge when they saw two trains about to cross the bridge in opposite directions. They tried to crawl out to the ends of the ties. The locomotive of the train on that side of the bridge struck them and hurled the mangled bodies to the river, thirty-five feet below.

FEW SUGGESTIONS IN POULTRY YARD

Keep the House Rid of Mites by Use of Kerosene—Dispose of All Young Cockerels.

Farmers' Bulletin 562 of the department of agriculture offers the following suggestions to members of the poultry clubs, and to poultry producers in general:

To rid the poultry house of mites, spray the pen, the roosts, and the dropping boards with kerosene or crude petroleum at least once a week from the time warm weather sets in in the spring until cold weather comes in the fall. Those having lime and sulphur compound could use it to good advantage for destroying lice and mites in the poultry house.

Market all cockerels, except those intended for breeding purposes, as soon as they attain broiler size, for they will pay a larger profit at that time than if held until fall, when the market becomes overcrowded.

It is urged that club members strictly adhere to the following rules in handling their poultry and eggs:

1. Keep the nests clean; provide one nest for every four hens.
2. Gather the eggs twice daily.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry room or cellar.
4. Market the eggs at least twice a week.
5. Sell, kill, or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

PLAN TO BUILD A SILO THIS SEASON

Harvest Full Feeding Value of Corn Crop Instead of Two-Thirds Formerly Obtained.

Silos are being built all through the country at a rate that never was equaled before, for the high feeding value of silage is beginning to be realized by farmers. The old fallacy that a dairy farmer was the only man who could afford to own a silo has been placed in the discard along with other mistaken ideas. All farmers who have ten head or more of farm animals can afford to own a silo.

Get a silo and harvest the full feeding value of the corn crop instead of the two-thirds you have been harvesting in the past. Fully one-third the feeding value of the corn plant is in the stalks and leaves; and under the methods that now are used on many farms most of this is wasted.

The type of silo is not so important. All of the standard makes will keep silage equally well if they are put up properly. Some of the more permanent kinds like the solid-wall concrete silos are the cheapest in the long run, for they will not rot down after they are built. The expense for repairs is small. The main thing is to get a silo, and do it in time for this year's crop.

POULTRY ADVICE

T. E. Quisenberry, State Expert, Urges Early Hatching.

T. E. Quisenberry, director of the Missouri Poultry Experiment Station at Mountain Grove, writes:

Another hatching season is almost here. Begin hatching as early as possible. The early hatched cockerels being twice as much per pound on the market as the late hatched ones, and the early hatched pullets make the best winter layers. Thousands of Missouri farmers and farmers' wives have found an incubator and brooder one of the best investments they have ever made. It's the only way you can be sure of getting out the early chicks. There are several different makes of incubators that are cheap, practical and so simple that a ten year old child can succeed with them.

The outlook for high prices for poultry and eggs is better than ever before. Beef is scarce, and getting scarcer. The population of our cities is increasing as fast as the population of the country. These increasing millions get hungry three times a day, three hundred and sixty-five days in the year—and they all like fried chicken and fresh eggs. Let us see that they are kept well supplied.

If you have not already done so resolve right now that you will make a start with pure bred chickens this year. It will be the best resolution you ever made. I have a deep personal grudge against every scrub chicken in Missouri, because I know that they are depriving their owners of good hard money that they are entitled to. Purebred chickens look better, lay better, pay better, are better. Try it and be convinced, as thousands of others have. We will be glad to tell you where you can get good eggs for hatching, from reliable breeders at reasonable prices.

THE NEW CORSETS

The New Models Are Designed to Give the "Uncorseted" Effect.

It seems odd that corsets are necessary to give the "no corset" lines which Fashion has decreed. Corset designers have never had a harder task than designing corsets which will give the loose, easy lines that are in vogue and still supply the support that the body demands.

How well the designers have succeeded is demonstrated in the new models now on display. The new figure, supple and willowy, can be obtained only by the latest models designed to produce just this free, charming effect. They emphasize the beautiful lines of the natural form and are so flexible that they yield to every movement of the body, producing grace, ease and comfort as well as modish style.

From day to day we will give descriptions of the new models and tell their good points. Today we feature three new Gossard models.

Model 250, price, $2.00

This is the first season a Gossard corset has ever been sold for $2.00. This new model enables you to try America's finest front laced corsets at a small expense. The sale of Gossards has increased enormously in the last few years, which is sufficient evidence that the Gossard idea of front lacing is correct.

This model has a medium bust, rather long skirt and the lines, while not extreme, reflect beautifully the present style for "natural lines."

Although this is the lowest priced Gossard corset it carries the same guarantee of satisfaction as the more expensive models.

Model 364—Price $3.50

At the left is illustrated the Gossard model 364.

It is low in the bust with a comfortable fullness over the diaphragm. It has flexible clasps, extremely flat hips and long close fitting skirt, supplied with three sets of hose supporters. Price $3.50.

Model 307—Price $6.50

At the right is illustrated the Gossard model 307.

It has a low upper portion, with a flexible clasp for pliability, and is designed with special regard for freedom and perfect ease at the bust.

The skirt is long, with a very flat hip line and back. Square elastic sections over the thighs allow of fitting the lower portion very closely.

Made of figured mercerized batiste. Price $6.50.

Gossard Corsets are priced from $2.00 to $25.00.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

TORREON FIGHT BELIEVED ON

Villa Inaugurates Strict Censorship of All Telegrams.

GENERAL FORWARD MOVEMENT

Government Troops Win First Skirmish and Later Foes Triumph, According to Chihuahua Advice—U. S. Customs House Burned by Mexicans.

Houston, Tex., March 16.—According to a Chihuahua dispatch a general forward movement of both the Mexican and rebel armies at Torreon was begun preliminary, it is believed, to the opening of the long deferred battle for possession of that city.

In the first skirmishes the rebels, it is said, were put to flight, but in later minor engagements the rebel troops were reported victorious. Orders were given by General Villa for the advance of his troops. His action was hastened by the interception of a wireless message from President Huerta, at Mexico City, to General Refugio Velasco, commanding the federal garrison at Torreon. As caught by General Villa's wireless station, the message directed Velasco to take the offensive against the rebels. Villa has inaugurated a strict censorship of all telegrams.

Postmaster Slain by Mexicans.
San Diego, Cal., March 16.—According to full advices received here the United States customs office and post-office at Tecate were burned and the postmaster, Frank V. Johnston, was shot dead by three bandits. Warren Weidenback was wounded. Observers of the tragedy say the bandits were Mexicans.

A charred American flag was found in the ruins of Johnston's store, which also was the customs office and post-office. A posse started in pursuit of the bandits.

Johnston was shot through the heart when he refused to give the combination of the safe. Elliott D. Johnston, the dead man's brother, sent telegrams to Secretary of State Bryan at Washington, Governor Hiram Johnson at Sacramento and Representative Kettner at Washington demanding an investigation. He places the responsibility for the tragedy on Mexicans. Bitter feeling along the border caused by the tragedy was intensified when a newspaper photographer on the American side was fired at by Mexicans. He was not injured.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED DROWN

Details of Disastrous Hurricane in Southern Russia.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—The hurricane which swept the province of Kuban, southern Russia, was so violent that all telegraph lines were seriously damaged, making communication almost impossible. Meager dispatches reported that 1,500 lives had been lost as the result of the tidal wave from the Sea of Azov.

A northerly gale caused numerous waterspouts off the east coast of the Sea of Azov and the shore from Yelisk to the Strait of Kertsch, a distance of about 500 miles, was flooded and six villages damaged. One hundred and seventy-six employees on the Kuban railroad were sleeping in a shed when awakened by the storm and fled to a train and endeavored to escape. The engine and cars, however, were overturned by the rushing waters and swept away.

The hurricane raged for ten hours. When it ceased the receding floods revealed scenes of great destruction. Eight miles of the railroad embankment were in ruin. The wrecked train was covered with dead workmen. Forty-eight of the 176 men finally got to shore on floating wreckage, but it is feared all others were drowned.

MRS. VAN KEUREN ACQUITTED

Chicago Woman Found Not Guilty of Husband's Murder.

Chicago, March 16.—Mrs. Louise Van Keuren, who has been on trial here for the murder of her husband, John B. Van Keuren, last June, was found not guilty by a jury. Mrs. Van Keuren's defense was that she mistook him for a burglar.

Mrs. Van Keuren is the thirteenth woman freed here in three years after trial on charges of killing men.

Buries Wrong Man as Hubby.

Chicago, March 16.—Mrs. Sophie Niemann told the coroner that as she had identified and buried the wrong man as her husband, Herman Niemann, she would like to have the body dug up and returned to the morgue. Mrs. Niemann said she had been aided in making the identification Jan. 25 by four members of a lodge to which Niemann belonged and had collected $1,000 life insurance. She said her son had met Niemann in this city two nights ago.

INTERSTATE TRADE COMMISSION BILL

Democrats Expect Substantial Support From Republicans.

Washington, March 16.—The interstate trade commission bill, bearing the approval of President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds, was made public after many conferences among members of the house interstate commerce committee.

The Democrats expect this measure to command substantial Republican support and an effort probably will be made soon to bring about concerted action between the senate and house on this phase of the program of commerce regulation and anti-trust legislation. The new bill was unanimously agreed upon by its framers, a subcommittee of Democrats and Republicans, headed by Representative Covington (Md.), and it is approved by practically the full committee.

"The whole theory of the creation of the commission," said Mr. Covington, "has been to make it an efficient, independent body. In most of the matters of publicity it has control of the facts gathered. Publicity is left to its discretion, and the bill contains ample authority for it to prevent the disclosure of the necessary trade secrets, valuable to the public, in promoting lawful competition business, but which when disclosed simply afford opportunity for injurious use by competitors."

The bill would transfer all the powers and duties of the bureau of corporations and the commissioner of corporations to the proposed commission of three members, presidential appointees subject to confirmation.

THAW MAKES PUBLIC APPEAL

Asks People of New York State Call Halt on Prosecution.

Concord, N. H., March 16.—Harry K. Thaw has addressed to the people of the state of New York, in whose name is being conducted the contest to return the slayer of Stanford White to the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, an appeal to end the case against him. A statement of the case was telegraphed by Thaw to newspapers and press associations, calling attention to resolutions which have been introduced in the New York assembly by John B. Golden, demanding that the prosecution be terminated.

Reviewing his two trials, Thaw set forth that of the twenty-six men confined with him in the Tombs in 1906, charged with homicide, twenty-three are free today, and other men have escaped from Matteawan without being pursued.

Burleson Approves Amendment.

Washington, March 16.—Postmaster General Burleson approved an amendment to the parcel post regulations under which butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables, poultry and other articles in parcel, weighing from twenty to fifty pounds, may be shipped in the first and second zones in boxes and crates similar to those handled by express companies.

Yankton Defeats Grinnell in Debate.

Yankton, S. D., March 16.—Yankton college debating team, Stadman, Tobin and Warren, presenting the affirmative on the question, "Shall exemption to American coastwise shipping from Panama tolls be repealed?" won a unanimous decision over the Grinnell college team, Welch, Ellis and Carter.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF BUCHANAN STREET M. E. CHURCH.

SECURED A PREACHER

Rev. S. M. Robinson, of Plattsburg District Will Remain a Week to Conduct Services.

Rev. S. M. Robinson, presiding elder of the Plattsburg district, will preach this week at the Buchanan street Methodist church. A revival is being conducted there by the young people of the church. The young people did not expect to have a minister do the preaching when the revival was first planned but the interest in the meeting has been so great that they thought best to procure some one to preach for them every evening.

Rev. Robinson preached a strong sermon at the Sunday evening service. He was the gifts of an evangelist. Before coming here he conducted a great meeting in North Kansas City which resulted in fifty five additions to the church. He came to Maryville yesterday to perform a marriage ceremony and at the request of Rev. J. D. Randolph, has promised to remain a week. He preached yesterday evening on the parable of the Wheat and Tares. He said in part:

"This is one of the parables the meaning of which we cannot fail to understand for Jesus himself explained it. We are told that the field could not produce a harvest of itself. All good comes from God. Human nature cannot originate good. It can, however, become a conductor of good. It shines with reflected light. Human nature cannot originate evil.

"Evil comes from the 'Wicked One.' It is received into human nature and produces a harvest of evil. I believe in total depravity, but not in total rottenness. Every one is capable of both good and evil. 'Behold I stand at the door and knock,' may be said of the 'Wicked One' as well as of Christ. 'The door must be unlocked from within. Neither Christ nor Satan has a key that will open the door of the heart. We are inside. Both Christ and Satan are outside. They cannot enter with out our consent.

"This parable brings up the question of the origin of evil. That has been a hard problem for some people. Jesus makes it plain that evil originates from the 'Evil One.' He it was who sowed the tares in the field.

"The parable also brings up the question of what to do with those whose lives are given over to evil. The servants asked, 'Wilt thou that we gather up the tares?' The answer was, 'Let them go, lest in rooting up the tares you pull up the wheat also.' We some times think God ought to destroy the sinner at once and get him out of the way. We do not stop to consider that the wheat would suffer with the tares."

At the close of the service an invitation was given to unite with the church. One was received by letter. While the meeting is called a Young Peoples Revival a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend the services.

Rev. Robinson will speak this evening on "The Border Line." The song service will begin promptly at 7:30.

LOST TO RAVENWOOD

Basket Ball Team of Christian Church of this City Defeated Saturday Night.

The basket ball team of the Christian church, of Maryville played a game with the Ravenwood team at Ravenwood Saturday night.

The Maryville team was handicapped in several ways as the gymnasium was much smaller than the one in which the church team had been playing in. The game was very rough at times and the score was 14 to 13. The line-up was: Maryville, Miller, McReynolds, Powell, Schaub and Polson. Ravenwood, Bradley, Traney, Slagle, Graf, Thompson, Rhodes and Duncan.

Prof. Clyde Busby of the Maryville high school refereed the game.

Came to See Nephew.

Dr. J. K. Phipps, of Grant City, was in Maryville to see his nephew, Paris Phipps, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Phipps. The little boy had been quite sick of pneumonia, but is some better.

Miss Mame Hagerty, of Alliance, Nebr., and Miss Elizabeth Mulverhill, of Omaha, who are guests of Miss Hagerty's aunt, Mrs. C. P. McCall, went to Conception Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Heekin.

DEATH OF HELEN FORD BRADLEY

Young Maryville Woman Passed Away Monday Morning at 1:30 O'Clock After Week's Illness

Mrs. Glade Bradley passed away Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ford, 128 South Main street, following a week's illness of scarlet fever. Mrs. Bradley's death is a severe shock to her husband, family and friends, as she was in perfect health up to the time the sickness came on her.

The news of Mrs. Bradley's death has been telegraphed to her father, Jim Andy Ford, who was called to St. Louis Sunday night on important business, and to her brother, Harold Ford of Chicago, and their arrival is expected Tuesday morning. Services will be held in Miriam cemetery in the presence of the family, but the time has not been decided upon. Rev. S. D. Harkness of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of the service.

Helen Ford Bradley was the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Ford and all her life had been lived in Maryville. Her age was 18 years, 11 months and 15 days. She attended the Maryville schools, studied music and art, was quite accomplished in household affairs and was a social favorite. She had been a member of the First Presbyterian church since childhood and had recently become a member of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was married the 31st day of January, 1913, to Glade Bradley of Bedford Iowa, who with their four-months-old son survives. Mrs. Bradley also leaves a brother and sister, Harold Ford, head of the wall paper department at Mandel Brothers, Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Jr., of this city.

TO OBSERVE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Rev. Fr. MacLeod Will Give a Lecture at the Empire Theatre in the Evening.

On tomorrow falls the anniversary of the birth of Ireland's patron saint, and it will be observed in the usual way. Rev. Fr. MacLeod, who appeared at a chautauqua assembly here a few years ago, will give a lecture at the Empire theatre in the evening.

There has been much said and written relative to the history of St. Patrick, but according to the majority of writers on the subject, St. Patrick was born at Banavem Tabernacle, in Scotland, probably identical with the modern Dumbarton, on the Severn, near its confluence with the Clyde, a few miles northwest of Glasgow. The Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, D. D., professor in the Catholic University of America in Washington, says in his book entitled "St. Patrick in History," that St. Patrick was very probably born in the vale of Clwyd (Clyde), near the Roman town of Deva (Chester). St. Patrick himself states in his confession that he was born in the district of "Banavem Tabernacle." Mulchrin says that his place was in Britain, "not far from our sea," i. e., from the coast of Ireland, and adds that he had always and for certain "found it to be the place called 'Ventre,' the birthplace likewise of Conchessa, the mother of St. Patrick." When 16 years of age, another authority relates, he was captured by pirates and carried to Ireland, where he lived as a slave for six years employed in tending cattle. This sad condition drove him to find consolation in religion and, in obedience to a divine intimation, he fled from his master and journeyed south two hundred miles. He found a ship about to sail for France, was taken on board as a servant and in three days landed at the mouth of the Loire. He finally made his way to Tours, where the famous Martin was bishop. He lived with Martin four years. This same account states that his mother was a sister of Bishop Martin, so that it is probable the tradition about his being of French birth originated from this act.

Watch the Children!

A little child on East Third street missed only by six inches being run over by an auto bus Saturday forenoon, about 11:30 as the bus was on its way to the noon Burlington train. The child fell in the parkway where it was playing, when the bus was a short distance away, and as he made no effort to get up Grant Trusty thought he was going to lie there and watch the bus pass. But instead, the little fellow jumped up suddenly and ran onto the pavement almost in front of the bus. Had the bus been a few inches nearer the child would have been crushed. Watch the children as they are beginning to play out these days and teach them to stay off the streets.

ANNUAL MEETING

HELD BY FARMERS MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO., SATURDAY.

ELECT OFFICERS LATER

Until a Constitution is Adopted—The One Presented Did Not Provide Incorporation.

The members of the Farmers Mutual Telephone Company, who held its annual meeting in the circuit court room Saturday afternoon and evening, deferred the election of officers and the adoption of by-laws until a constitution is adopted.

A form of the constitution proposed by the president of the company and the members of the committee appointed by him, was presented to the convention. The constitution as presented did not provide for the incorporation of the company. Some of the delegates personally favored the adoption of the constitution but felt disinclined to vote for it before having a chance to consult their constituents. Others disapproved of any plan that did not contemplate the incorporation of the company. Still others objected to the rates proposed by the constitution as submitted. A motion to adopt the constitution in the form submitted to the convention was lost by a vote of 33 to 5.

It was then voted by the convention that the constitution as proposed be printed and a copy sent to each member of the union. The meeting was adjourned to March 28, at which time the question of the adoption would again come up, after the representatives had a chance to discuss the matter with the subscribers on their respective lines.

It was also ordered that each line hold a meeting before March 28 and elect a representative who would have power to act for his line at this meeting.

There was some discussion in regard to the new toll lines and the extension of other lines but nothing was done. It was also voted unanimously that the election of officers and the adoption of by-laws be deferred until after a constitution was adopted.

All subscribers have been invited to read over carefully the form of the proposed constitution sent to them and to have their representatives suggest changes or amendments as they desire at the next meeting.

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake, of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The grippe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion,
Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery
in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach, headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; beside, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—Advertisement.

Cecil Rhodes' Eggs.

Cecil Rhodes used to take a coop of hens on board to provide fresh eggs on his numerous voyages between England and South Africa. But those were three weeks' journeys, and not a mere five day crossing of the Atlantic. Hence another prominent South African personage was asked why he did not follow Rhodes' example and provide himself with the luxury of new laid eggs at sea. "Oh, I don't bother to take a coop of fowls on board," he replied, "but I tip the boatman who looks after Rhodes' hens, and I get Rhodes' eggs."

THE LURE OF MAGIC.

Why One Man Just Had to Rub Elbows With a Conjuror.

Ambition takes men very differently. One would enter parliament and one would have a play accepted at the court; one would reach the north pole, and one would live at Chiselhurst, while a fifth would be happy if only he had a motorcar. Speaking for myself, my ambition has always been to have a conjuror perform under my own roof, and it has just happened. I obtained him from the stores.

I have never been so near magic before. Like all great men when one comes closely in touch with them, he was quite human, quite like ourselves; so much so indeed that in addition to his fee he wanted his cab fare both ways. It is very human to want things both ways.

I have been wondering how long it would take me to learn to be a conjuror and if it is not too late to begin. . . . I don't want to be a finished conjuror. I merely want to do three tricks with reasonable dexterity. Of course if one can do three tricks one can do thirty, but it is three, and three only. I have in mind—first, I want to borrow a watch and put it in a pestle and mortar and grind it to powder and then fire a pistol at a loaf of bread and find the watch whole again in the midst of the crumbs; second, I want to borrow a tall hat and throw in flour and break eggs into it and stir it all up and hold it over a spirit lamp for a second and then produce a beautiful warm cake; third, I want to find beads in old men's beards and little girls' hair.

Tricks with cards and money and so forth I don't mind about, because I would always rather see them done than do them, there is such fascination in the clean, swift movement of the conjuror with cards, his perfect mastery of his fingers, the supple beauty of his hands. And tricks with machinery I would gladly forego.

My conjuror's most popular trick was, of course, that which calls upon the co-operation of a rabbit. I wrote to him in advance to insist on this. No man who at a children's party produces a live rabbit, particularly when it is very small and kicking and also black and white, is making a mistake. No matter what has gone before, this apparition will seal his popularity. The end crowns the work (as I could say in Latin if I liked).

It was not only to the children that this trick was welcome, but to an elderly literary friend of mine with whom I have collaborated more than once and into whose life I hoped to get a little brightness by inducing him to bring the tall hat which the wizard should borrow. The thought filled him with excitement. It was bringing radiance indeed into his life to know that this old hat, which had done nothing more romantic than keep his head warm all these years, was to be used for magical purposes and have a real rabbit extracted from it.—From "Character and Comedy," by E. V. Lucas.

"Our Wretched Bone."

How can we—we who have gained for ourselves health and comfort and knowledge—how can we stand patiently by and see our brother diseased and miserable and ignorant? How can we bear our luxuries as long as a child is growing up in savagery whom we might have saved, or a woman is drooping from sorrow and overwork whom we might have cherished and helped? We are not our own—we are parts of the whole. Generations of workers have toiled for us in the past, and we are in return to carry our wretched bone off to our miserable corner, sharing and giving nothing? Woe upon us if we do.—Mrs. Humphry Ward in "The History of David Grieve."

Where They Don't Agree.

TOLLS DEBATE ON THIS WEEK

House Will Take Up Open Discussion of Question Soon.

MAY VOTE BY SATURDAY NIGHT

Effort Will Be Made in the Senate by Administration Leaders to Pave Way for Early Action—Lobbying Investigating Committee.

Washington, March 16.—Open debate on repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act will begin late this week in the house, and a vote in that body on the Sims bill to carry out the recommendations of President Wilson is expected by Saturday night. In the senate efforts will be made by administration leaders to pave the way for early action on the issue by bringing it squarely before the committee on interoceanic canals for consideration and report by the time the house has disposed of the subject.

Opposing forces in both houses are arrayed for the fight, the prospect being that the champions of tolls exemption for American coastwise ships will lose when the roll calls have been taken in both houses. Representatives Adamson and Shas, in charge of the repeal forces in the house, are only doubtful as to the size of the majority their cause will have.

Another question included in the foreign relations of the government which it is planned to undertake this week for consideration is the pending treaty with Nicaragua, negotiated in the Taft administration, which the present administration wishes to have amended and ratified as soon as possible. The foreign relations committee of the senate expects Secretary Bryan to appear Wednesday in explanation of the administration's desires relating to the treaty, which is designed primarily for acquisition by the United States of the Nicaraguan canal rights and rights to naval station sites in the Bay of Forza in exchange for a payment of $3,000,000 in gold.

In the senate during the week the lobby investigating committee plans to resume its examination of Clarence W. DeKnight with regard to charges of lobbying in the interest of increased pay bill for army and navy officers and other legislative matters. Appropriation bills also will be taken up in both branches, the house planning to take up the naval appropriation bill, over which will occur a spirited contest between the so-called "big navy" and "little navy" adherents.

Chamberlain Says He Should Stop Talking or Be Recalled at Once.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—"Some means ought to be found by the powers that be to seal the lips of the ambassador to Great Britain, or else, in justice to the American people, he ought to be recalled and that as promptly as possible," declared Senator Chamberlain of Oregon in a formal statement, after reading cabled accounts of Ambassador Page's address before the Associated Chambers of Commerce in London.

Senator Chamberlain introduced the resolution passed by the senate, as a result of which Secretary Bryan cabled Mr. Page for a full report of his speech, in which he was reported as having said that the American people were pleased that Great Britain should profit most by the Panama canal and that the Monroe doctrine meant merely that the United States "would prefer that no European governments would claim more land in the new world."

JOBLESS ARMY RAISES $14

"General" Kelley Is Likened to Napoleon by Woman Speaker.

Sacramento, Cal., March 16.—When seemingly on the point of disbandment 300 members of the unemployed army on the Yolo county side of the Sacramento river were cheered up by a collection taken for them at a meeting held in their midst by Sacramento clergymen and by the exhortations of Mrs. Cora Bates of Sacramento, who spoke from a soap box.

Mrs. Bates likened the men to martyrs and compared "General" Kelley, one of their leaders, to Napoleon. The encouraged men began again their talk of a march to Washington.

The collection, amounting to $14, was ordered used to buy food.

"Votes for Women" Painted on Church
Birmingham, England, March 16.—Worshippers in the cathedral found the walls and floors of the edifice covered with suffragette proclamations painted in white letters a foot high, reading "Votes for Women." "The clergy must rise in our behalf and stop the torturing of women in prison." Every foot of space, except the altar, had a sign painted on it, including the pews.

Three More Bodies Recovered.

St. Louis, March 16.—Three bodies were removed from the ruins of the Missouri Athletic club building, bringing the total of dead recovered to twenty-nine. Thirty are believed to have perished in the fire a week ago. One of the bodies removed was identified as that of Allen H. Hock of this city.

Parish in Chicago Most Irish of Any Outside of Erin.

Chicago, March 16.—Rev. Maurice J. Dorney, a Chicago Catholic priest, whose name is familiar on both sides of the Atlantic, died at Mercy hospital, where his sister is one of the nurses in charge. Death was due to paralysis, following heart trouble, which attacked him a few weeks ago.

Father Dorney, "the king of the stock yards," was one of the strongest and most picturesque characters in the west. Counselor, protector, friend to thousands, he had the power for thirty-five years of the ruler of a principality, in one of the greatest industrial centers in the world—the packing house district of Chicago. His prestige extended to the White House in Washington and on a memorable occasion he earned the gratitude of Irishmen everywhere as a trusted envoy from Irish leaders on this side of the Atlantic to Charles Stewart Parnell in London.

What is said to be the most Irish parish outside of Ireland was Father Dorney's office charge, St. Gabriel's, at Forty-fifth street, the nearest Catholic parish to the main entrance of the stock yards. To people well acquainted with that part of Chicago, no more evidence is needed to illustrate the force of his personality than the fact that by his efforts a mile square of territory surrounding his church has for twenty years been absolutely free from the presence of a saloon.

RIVADAVIA ENDS TRIALS

Greatest Broadside Ever Delivered From Battleship.

Boston, March 16.—Firing what was said to be the greatest salvo of big guns ever discharged from a battleship, the Argentine dreadnought Rivadavia completed the trials demanded by the construction contract. Every requirement was fulfilled, its builders announced.

The salvo was delivered in one broadside. Twelve 12-inch guns and six 19-inch guns were trained from the port side of the big sea fighter as it lay off Cape Cod. With the pressure of a single button the eighteen guns were discharged, sending as many heavy projectiles out over the waters of the Atlantic.

The dreadnought was shaken somewhat, glass was broken notwithstanding special copped shutters and minor fittings were displaced, but the structure of the battleship, it was said, stood firmly under the strain. The test was repeated without causing any unexpected damage.

During the discharges the men aboard had to carry rubber between their teeth and cotton in their ears to ease the jar of the mighty detonations.

Pan-American Meeting Postponed Because of Disturbances.

Washington, March 16.—Conditions in Mexico and disturbances in a number of South American countries are understood to be the principal reasons for the postponement of the fifth Pan-American conference, which was to have been held in Santiago, Chile, about the middle of next September, had been postponed until Nov. 25.

Ambassadors and ministers here will notify their governments of this purpose, Secretary Bryan having assented to the postponement.

Three Killed on Bridge.

Chicago, March 16.—Three unidentified men were knocked off a bridge into the Desplaines river and killed at River Grove by a Milwaukee train. The men were in the middle of the bridge when they saw two trains about to cross the bridge in opposite directions. They tried to crawl out to the ends of the ties. The locomotive of the train on that side of the bridge struck them and hurled the mangled bodies to the river, thirty-five feet below.

FEW SUGGESTIONS IN POULTRY YARD

Keep the House Rid of Mites by Use of Kerosene—Dispose of All Young Cockerels.

Farmers' Bulletin 562 of the department of agriculture offers the following suggestions to members of the poultry clubs, and to poultry producers in general:

To rid the poultry house of mites, spray the pen, the roosts, and the dropping boards with kerosene or crude petroleum at least once a week from the time warm weather sets in in the spring until cold weather comes in the fall. Those having lime and sulphur compound could use it to good advantage for destroying lice and mites in the poultry house.

Market all cockerels, except those intended for breeding purposes, as soon as they attain broiler size, for they will pay a larger profit at that time than if held until fall, when the market becomes overcrowded.

It is urged that club members strictly adhere to the following rules in handling their poultry and eggs:

1. Keep the nests clean; provide one nest for every four hens.
2. Gather the eggs twice daily.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry room or cellar.
4. Market the eggs at least twice a week.
5. Sell, kill, or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

Silos are being built all through the country at a rate that never was equaled before, for the high feeding value of silage is beginning to be realized by farmers. The old fallacy that a dairy farmer was the only man who could afford to own a silo has been placed in the discard along with other mistaken ideas. All farmers who have ten head or more of farm animals can afford to own a silo.

Get a silo and harvest the full feeding value of the corn crop instead of the two-thirds you have been harvesting in the past. Fully one-third the feeding value of the corn plant is in the stalks and leaves; and under the methods that now are used on many farms most of this is wasted.

The type of silo is not so important. All of the standard makes will keep silage equally well if they are put up properly. Some of the more permanent kinds like the solid-wall concrete silos are the cheapest in the long run, for they will not rot down after they are built. The expense for repairs is small. The main thing is to get a silo, and do it in time for this year's crop.

POULTRY ADVICE

T. E. Quisenberry, State Expert, Urges Early Hatching.

T. E. Quisenberry, director of the Missouri Poultry Experiment Station at Mountain Grove, writes:

Another hatching season is almost here. Begin hatching as early as possible. The early hatched cockerels being twice as much per pound on the market as the late hatched ones, and the early hatched pullets make the best winter layers. Thousands of Missouri farmers and farmers' wives have found an incubator and brooder one of the best investments they have ever made. It's the only way you can be sure of getting out the early chicks. There are several different makes of incubators that are cheap, practical and so simple that a ten year old child can succeed with them.

The outlook for high prices for poultry and eggs is better than ever before. Beef is scarce, and getting scarcer. The population of our cities is increasing as fast as the population of the country. These increasing millions get hungry three times a day, three hundred and sixty-five days in the year—and they all like fried chicken and fresh eggs. Let us see that they are kept well supplied.

If you have not already done so resolve right now that you will make a start with pure bred chickens this year. It will be the best resolution you ever made. I have a deep personal grudge against every scrub chicken in Missouri, because I know that they are depriving their owners of good hard money that they are entitled to. Purebred chickens look better, lay better, pay better, are better. Try it and be convinced, as thousands of others have. We will be glad to tell you where you can get good eggs for hatching, from reliable breeders at reasonable prices.

THE NEW CORSETS

The New Models Are Designed to Give the "Uncorseted" Effect.

It seems odd that corsets are necessary to give the "no corset" lines which Fashion has decreed. Corset designers have never had a harder task than designing corsets which will give the loose, easy lines that are in vogue and still supply the support that the body demands.

How well the designers have succeeded is demonstrated in the new models now on display. The new figure, supple and willowy, can be obtained only by the latest models designed to produce just this free, charming effect. They emphasize the beautiful lines of the natural form and are so flexible that they yield to every movement of the body, producing grace, ease and comfort as well as modish style.

From day to day we will give descriptions of the new models and tell their good points. Today we feature three new Gossard models.

Model 250, price, $2.00

This is the first season a Gossard corset has ever been sold for $2.00. This new model enables you to try America's finest front laced corsets at a small expense. The sale of Gossards has increased enormously in the last few years, which is sufficient evidence that the Gossard idea of front lacing is correct.

This model has a medium bust, rather long skirt and the lines, while not extreme, reflect beautifully the present style for "natural lines."

Although this is the lowest priced Gossard corset it carries the same guarantee of satisfaction as the more expensive models.

Model 364—Price $3.50

At the left is illustrated the Gossard model 364.

It is low in the bust with a comfortable fullness over the diaphragm. It has flexible clasps, extremely flat hips and long close fitting skirt, supplied with three sets of hose supporters. Price $3.50.

Model 307—Price $6.50

At the right is illustrated the Gossard model 307.

It has a low upper portion, with a flexible clasp for pliability, and is designed with special regard for freedom and perfect ease at the bust.

The skirt is long, with a very flat hip line and back. Square elastic sections over the thighs allow of fitting the lower portion very closely.

Made of figured mercerized batiste. Price $6.50.

Gossard Corsets are priced from $2.00 to $25.00.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

TORREON FIGHT BELIEVED ON

Villa Inaugurates Strict Censorship of All Telegrams.

GENERAL FORWARD MOVEMENT

Government Troops Win First Skirmish and Later Foes Triumph, According to Chihuahua Advises—U. S. Customs House Burned by Mexicans.

Houston, Tex., March 16.—According to a Chihuahua dispatch a general forward movement of both the Mexican and rebel armies at Torreon was begun preliminary, it is believed, to the opening of the long deferred battle for possession of that city.

In the first skirmishes the rebels, it is said, were put to flight, but in later minor engagements the rebel troops were reported victorious. Orders were given by General Villa for the advance of his troops. His action was hastened by the interception of a wireless message from President Huerta, at Mexico City, to General Refugio Velasco, commanding the federal garrison at Torreon. As caught by General Villa's wireless station, the message directed Velasco to take the offensive against the rebels. Villa has inaugurated a strict censorship of all telegrams.

Postmaster Slain by Mexicans.

San Diego, Cal., March 16.—According to full advices received here the United States customs office and post-office at Tecate were burned and the postmaster, Frank V. Johnston, was shot dead by three bandits. Warren Weidenback was wounded. Observers of the tragedy say the bandits were Mexicans.

A charred American flag was found in the ruins of Johnston's store, which also was the customs office and post-office. A posse started in pursuit of the bandits.

Johnston was shot through the heart when he refused to give the combination of the safe. Elliott D. Johnston, the dead man's brother, sent telegrams to Secretary of State Bryan at Washington, Governor Hiram Johnson at Sacramento and Representative Kettner at Washington demanding an investigation. He places the responsibility for the tragedy on Mexicans. Bitter feeling along the border caused by the tragedy was intensified when a newspaper photographer on the American side was fired at by Mexicans. He was not injured.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED DROWN

Details of Disastrous Hurricane in Southern Russia.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—The hurricane which swept the province of Kuban, southern Russia, was so violent that all telegraph lines were seriously damaged, making communication almost impossible. Meager dispatches reported that 1,500 lives had been lost as the result of the tidal wave from the Sea of Azov.

A northerly gale caused numerous waterpools off the east coast of the Sea of Azov and the shore from Yolsk to the Strait of Kertsch, a distance of about 500 miles, was flooded and six villages damaged. One hundred and seventy-six employees on the Kuban railroad were sleeping in a shed when awakened by the storm and fled to a train and endeavored to escape. The engine and cars, however, were overturned by the rushing waters and swept away.

The hurricane raged for ten hours. When it ceased the receding floods revealed scenes of great destruction. Eight miles of the railroad embankment were in ruin. The wrecked train was covered with dead workmen. Forty-eight of the 176 men finally got to shore on floating wreckage, but it is feared all others were drowned.

MRS. VAN KEUREN ACQUITTED

Chicago Woman Found Not Guilty of Husband's Murder.

Chicago, March 16.—Mrs. Louise Van Keuren, who has been on trial here for the murder of her husband, John B. Van Keuren, last June, was found not guilty by a jury. Mrs. Van Keuren's defense was that she mistook him for a burglar.

Mrs. Van Keuren is the thirteenth woman freed here in three years after trial on charges of killing men.

Buries Wrong Man as Hubby.

Chicago, March 16.—Mrs. Sophie Niemann told the coroner that as she had identified and buried the wrong man as her husband, Herman Niemann, she would like to have the body dug up and returned to the morgue. Mrs. Niemann said she had been aided in making the identification Jan. 25 by four members of a lodge to which Niemann belonged and had collected $1,000 life insurance. She said her son had met Niemann in this city two nights ago.

Jap Vice Admiral Charged With Graft. Tokyo, March 16.—Vice Admiral Tsurutaro Matsuo, inspector general of naval construction, on the reserve, was arrested, charged with complicity in alleged graft in naval expenses.

Bark Driven Ashore and Five Drown. London, March 16.—The Swedish bark Trifolium was driven ashore on Land's End and Captain Olsen and four sailors were drowned. Six members of the crew were saved.

INTERSTATE TRADE COMMISSION BILL

Democrats Expect Substantial Support From Republicans.

Washington, March 16.—The interstate trade commission bill, bearing the approval of President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds, was made public after many conferences among members of the house interstate commerce committee.

The Democrats expect this measure to command substantial Republican support and an effort probably will be made soon to bring about concerted action between the senate and house on this phase of the program of commerce regulation and anti-trust legislation. The new bill was unanimously agreed upon by its framers, a subcommittee of Democrats and Republicans, headed by Representative Covington (Md.), and it is approved by practically the full committee.

"The whole theory of the creation of the commission," said Mr. Covington, "has been to make it an efficient, independent body. In most of the matters of publicity it has control of the facts gathered. Publicity is left to its discretion, and the bill contains ample authority for it to prevent the disclosure of the necessary trade secrets, valuable to the public, in promoting lawful competition business, but which when disclosed simply afford opportunity for injurious use by competitors."

"Powers of investigation, safeguarded by proper legislative limitations against unlawful searches and seizures, are taken from a few subordinate departments under the control of the executive and given to this nonpartisan body."

The bill would transfer all the powers and duties of the bureau of corporations and the commissioner of corporations to the proposed commission of three members, presidential appointees subject to confirmation.

THAW MAKES PUBLIC APPEAL

Asks People of New York State Call Halt on Prosecution.

Concord, N. H., March 16.—Harry K. Thaw has addressed to the people of the state of New York, in whose name is being conducted the contest to return the slayer of Stanford White to the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, an appeal to end the case against him. A statement of the case was telegraphed by Thaw to newspapers and press associations, calling attention to resolutions which have been introduced in the New York assembly by John B. Golden, demanding that the prosecution be terminated.

Reviewing his two trials, Thaw set forth that of the twenty-six men confined with him in the Tombs in 1906, charged with homicide, twenty-three are free today, and other men have escaped from Matteawan without being pursued.

Burleson Approves Amendment.

Washington, March 16.—Postmaster General Burleson approved an amendment to the parcel post regulations under which butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables, poultry and other articles in parcel, weighing from twenty to fifty pounds, may be shipped in the first and second zones in boxes and crates similar to those handled by express companies.

Yankton Defeats Grinnell in Debate.

Yankton, S. D., March 16.—Yankton college debating team, Stadman, Tobin and Warren, presenting the affirmative on the question, "Shall exemption to American coastwise shipping from Panama tolls be repealed?" won a unanimous decision over the Grinnell college team, Welch, Ellis and Carter.
